FOR GOVERNOR. JOHN W. DANIKL, OF LYNCHBURG FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. JAMES BARBOUR, OF CULPEPER. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, P. W. McKINNEY, OF FARMVILLE. FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGITES. JUDGE CHARLES E. STUART.

THURSDAY BYENING, OCTOBER 27.

Ul ra republican newspapers are eternal y bitterness of the South." So far as we know the bitterness of the South has long size: passed away. If it remained it would be matitested. There would be no concealment about is, for the people of the South are too frank and too bold to bide their feelings, and often express them when discretion would counsel them to hold their tongues. But the resson why the bitterness has gone is not any thing the radicals have said or done, but the know." edge the Southern people have that the hate entertained for them in the North is not legitimate, and would disappear were it not for the speakers and writers of the republican party. who engender and stimulate it as a means towards their owa profit and preferment. Were these incondisties effective in the South the animosity between the two sections of the courtry would be at the fighting point all the time. They don't ever let the dead rest, but ghou!like, drag the corpses of Southern mon from their graves, and attempt to defile them by low and mendacions assertions. One of the class of of the late Governor Wil'z, of Louisiana, as tions that had been sent in. An effort will be that of an "unmitigated white league ruffien," and though the deceased was a polished and refined gentleman, says, that upon one occasion "he plunged a bowie knife up to the hilt in a poor anothending and flieing pagro, and wiping the bloody keife on the cost, exclaimed "another nig :er has good up." Such islkwould not becaloulated to indues Southern people to conceal bistee feeliggs for the North if they entertaised them, but they do not, and what's more, they thoroughly understand the motives of those who would have it otherwise.

A Mahone movement was attempted in Baltimora yesterday, but it met with signal failure. It is hoped that it presages a similar result in this State on the S.h. proxime. A few disastisfied and disappointed democrate attempted. as Mahone is doing in Virginia, to defeat the day from Virginia was that of Clement F. Norregular demic atic ticket by uniting with the ment to be pestuneter at Soffoik. This is sugropublican and negro vote and making it sut- posed to be another Mahone appointment, but black republicans of Baltimore couldn't discover that of Statham has to evercome, the advantages that would scorne to themselves to obtain funds with which to conduct his camfrom such a coalition, and so they would have | paign failed to accomplish its of jost, strong efnone of ir. The result was that, as the demo- forts are being made here to raise him all the orate had the sanse, as those in Virginia have STORD, to nominate a ticket composed of hor- Mr. Jowell, its chairman, came on for that purest and efficient men, they swept the city, and elected every single one of their candidates. Mr. Riddleberger in a speech at Staunton, a day or two ago, to reference to his candidacy for matter how much that may be. Bargeant at Arms of the U. S. Senate, said "Mahone had told I im that if he would take it of this District to-lay. His wife is a very prethe would get it for him." Now, the question ty woman, but is reported to have been untrue naturally arises how a man elected to the Senate to him in cumerous itstances. by a majority of the democrats in the Legislature, as Mahone says he was, could, without a treated by the Virginians at Yorktown. If this previously arranged bargain with the republicans, have felt authorized to make Mr. Riddleberger such an offer. One single Senator offering the most influential office at the disposal of the Senate, without a bargain! Why the idea is preposterous. But the reputlicans did not keep the bargain. Gen. Mahone also promised Mr. Gorbam the Secretaryship of the Senate, and again the republicace broke the bargain, for Mr. Edmunds offered the resclation that gave that office to Mr. Sheber. In some things, as in his efforts to carry Virginia, the republican Senators will help the make bis friend "George" the Secretary of the Senate, or bis obedient follower, Mr Riddieberger, Sergeant at Arms of that body.

As regularly to election days come there always turn up at the polls in every voting preoinct men entitled to vote, but who have not qualified themselves to do so. Let the city and county, ward and district superintendents of the democratic party see to it that no such cases appear among the democrats within the limits nade: their supervision next Tuesday week. Saturday next the registration books will be open, and it is the imperative duty of every such superintendent as those to whom reference is made to have his county, city, ward and district theroughly searched for every man in favor of preserving the honor and credit of the State, and to have them properly registered. The superiotendents assumed a responsible due ty when they accepted their positions, and raised on the State capitol building, and was they will be held accountable it they fail to perform it properly and eff clively.

Rev. Dr. Hoge, who is respected most where best known, says "that which is morally wrong cannot be politically :igh'." Mr. John Sherman, who is respected least where best known, says "anything that will best down the democratic party and sustain the republican party, is justifiable in morals and in law." It is not surprising that a man entertaining and express-

The appointment and election of mon to offices they don't want and which they refuse to scoopt are entirely out of place in a country so eminently practical as this is, and should be stopped at oces. It is stated that Mr. Morgan was cominated for Secretary of the Treasury merely to pay him and the New York stalwarts a compliment, with no idea that he would ac- lature. cept it, and with the intention of effering it to some one clsa who wou'd take it, as soon as Mr. Morgan declined it. The session of the Senate has thus been prolonged at least a day is order that the President might pay a high compliment to a political friend. The Presi dent ought to know that this is wrong, and should resert to other means of bestowing personal compliments.

We have received from the Hussell Publishing Co. Boston, the Movember number of "Our Little Once," a very interesting and instructive work for the little folks.

Special Correspondence of the Alexa, Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct., 27, 1881. Among the neminations sent to the Sentate to day were those of Julge Fo'ger, of New York, to be S.cretary of the Tressury; Mr. James, to be Postmaster General, and Mr. prating of what they term "the ill concealed Hatton, to be First Assistant Postmaster General. The nomination of Mr. Jemes occasioned some susprise; that of the two others did not, as it was expected. It is supposed that Mr. James was nominated in order to avoid any difficulty that might possibly arise from the the altempt to burn the Betheir two week doubt respecting the duration of his torm of office, as some seem to think that his term expired with death of the President Garfield. It was ented to this correspondence yesterday that the President would not remove any half-breed | South Carolina for two terms during the expet who would oppent to become a stalwart, and as beg period, is now on trial at Napoleon, Onio. Mr. Jagges is not the sers of man to stand by principle, and as Mr. Conkling told him, ' is not made of the stuff one of which heroes are formed," he accepted the situation at once; became as good a stalwart as the best, and, as a consequence, has been allowed to retain his office. Why the nemination of an Attorney-General was not cont in was also a question that nobody knew how to answer, but there was a rumor to the circo that Mr. MacVeagh had consented to hold on until the regular session.

The open session of the Senate to day was extremely short, the only business done in it being the passage of a resolution giving the pages pay for the full mouth of Ostober. It then went into executive session, but after a short time took a recess for an hour in order papers to which we refer designates the course that the committees might not on the nominamade to bring the session to a close this afternoon, and there is no reason why it abould not

> The nomination of Cufford Stathen as postmaster at Lypohburg will come up in the executive session of the Senate te-lay. The democrats are a unit in their opposition to it, and if they are all present or paired it can not be confirmed. Their intention is to postpone its cocsideration, and if that fails to stave off a vote by dilatory motions.

It is reported here that the Mahonsites of Virginia are not satisfied with the way Brady is rensing their campaign, and that it he sends out any more such speakers as Fernald and Weliz to zil seriously damage their prospects. It is said that the latter, in his speech at Alex-General, but never, no never, will they let him andria last Monday night, told his negro hearers that 'they need have no fear about supporting the Mahone ticket, as it was a republican move made to explore the democrats,' and that as a consequence the few white prople there who intended voting that ticket thought better of it and resolved to vote with a tions. Br. Blaine's Isthmus Letter.

The letter written by Secretary Disiac to Mr. Lowell in Lordon, affirming the exclusive right of the United States under its front with Colombia to guarantee the reulrality of the canal now in course of construction across the Isthmes of Panama, does not meet with the unqualified assent of Great Reliado er France The London Times cannot see how a pastrate of the neutrality of the canal by the United States can be weakened by the additist guaran tee of England or France, or wherein, na re spects the canal at l'ename, it differs from the joint neutrality agreed upon between Rogiana and the United States in the Bulwar-Clapton treaty of 1850 with respect to the project oanal scross Nicaragua. The Times conten that England is oven more interested then if United States commercially in maintaining the neutrality of the Penama escal, as the buk of her vessels would take that route to Britisi Columbia and his Australian possessions, But th great point made by the Times is that if the United States and the Republic of Colombia were enceded to be the only parties entitled to guarantee the neutrality of the canal they migh at any time, by mu usl consent, suspend that gusrantee and close it to the commerce of the world without giving just cause of offence to the maritime nations who are interested in upheld ing it as an open waterway common to all yes sels except ships of war.

The New York Times also fieds three ch stacles that prevent Mr. Blaine's logic from bein pefect. The first is the poverty of our merchant marine; the second the Clayton Bulwer treaty in regard to Nicaragua, and the third that Colombia herself is not satisfied with the guarantee on which Mr. Blaine relies

He was opposed, he said, to recent exhibitions of "flatulent sentimentality." and he did not wish Congress to be made a pawn-shop. When Mr. Ingalis, before the theatrical britery case which made him Senator, was the peoeditor of the very poor Kansas magazine, he spread its sheets with more fishulent sentimen-tality to the square yard than was over before exhibited in this country, and he was parti arly dainty and recherche as a murchand de habits, a second hand dealer in French old clothes, the legends and traditions of the French in America. Financial.

NEW YORK, Oat. 27 .- The Post's financial article sage: The Stock Exchange markets are less sotive than yesterday. Bonds are firm at unchanged prices. Railroad bonds are generally higher, the rise ranging from to 2 per cent. The Stock Market opened strong, but soon hesitated and since the first half hour has been alternately strong and heavy. The net result of the fluctuations is that prices are somewhat higher than at the close yesterday. The U. S. sub treasury was debtor this morting at the clearing house $687,209.06. The lean market is without impertant change, call loans being 4 to 6 per cent.
